Monday Letter of Mrs. Hallman's Fourth Grade Class
June 8, 2009

From the Teacher:

Can you believe we're finally here? I have had the privilege of seeing your children grow physically, socially, emotionally and spiritually. I've witnessed their growth in all areas and find it a blessing to have had your children in my class. I cannot thank you enough for all of your help, support and encouragement throughout the last ten months. We had an OUTSTANDING year! I trust you will have a restful and enjoyable summer and I look forward to seeing all of you in September! God Bless!

Honors Assembly

Join us in recognizing all of the hard work put into this school year on Tuesday at the Honors Assembly. It will begin at 8:45am in the gymnasium.

Dress Down Days

In honor of the end of the year, this week will be FREE dress down days.

Book Talks

In order to encourage summer reading, we're going to have a book talk on Wednesday. The students are being asked to bring in a favorite book to advertise for the class, in order to encourage more reading this summer! Students will share a few words about their book and why it's their favorite. This is an exciting way to encourage summer reading.
