FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY POLICY

Terms and Conditions of Enrollment

Your signature on our enrollment contract obligates you to full and complete payment of all tuition and other incurred charges such as books, trips, supplies, etc.

Enrollment After September 1, 2021

Any family enrolling a student after September 1, 2021 and choosing to utilize a payment plan, must have one successful payment prior to the student beginning their first day.

Financial Responsibility in the Event of Withdrawal

Penn Christian Academy recognizes that students that accept an enrollment offer may subsequently decide not to attend or to stop attending PCA. Those persons who executed an Enrollment Contract may withdraw the child who is the subject of the Enrollment Contract by delivering a written notification of withdrawal to the Admissions Director. This is the only method for withdrawing a student. The financial obligation for tuition of those who executed the Enrollment Contract of a student who does not attend or stops attending PCA after executing an Enrollment Contract is dependent upon the timing of the receipt of written notification of withdrawal as set forth below.

Withdrawal Prior to June 1, 2021

In those instances in which an Enrollment Contract is executed prior to June 1, 2021 and written notification of withdrawal is received by the Admissions Director by no later than June 1, 2021 those persons who executed the Enrollment Contract will have no further financial obligation. Tuition deposits, however, that were received by PCA will be forfeited.

Withdrawal Subsequent to June 1 through August 1, 2021

In those instances in which written notification of withdrawal is received by the Admissions Director after June 1, 2021 and through August 1, 2021, those persons who executed the Enrollment Contract will be responsible for only liquidated damages of $1,000 if the written notification of withdrawal is received by July 1, 2021; and $2,000 if the written notification of withdrawal is received by August 1, 2021. The liquidated damages will be assessed because of the difficulty in calculating the cost to PCA associated with obtaining a replacement for the withdrawing student. Under any and all circumstances, tuition deposits that are received by PCA will be forfeited. PCA is not obligated to search for a replacement for the withdrawing student and retains full discretion to offer or to decline to offer enrollment to each and every applicant for admission.

Withdrawal after August 1, 2021

In those instances in which written notification of withdrawal is received by the Director of Admissions after August 1, 2021, those persons who executed the Enrollment Contract are responsible for the full year's tuition. The disallowance of a student's class registration or attendance because tuition has not been paid according to policy terms does not relieve those who executed the Enrollment Contract of the tuition obligation. Upon payment of past due tuition, a student may be allowed to attend classes if, in PCA's judgment, the missed school work can be made up without undue hardship to the student. All persons or entities (parents, guardians, trusts, etc.) executing an Enrollment or Re-enrollment Contract (1) are jointly and severally liable thereunder for all tuition and other incurred charges in the event of any nonpayment or delinquency, including all reasonable collection costs in the event that PCA elects to legally enforce its collection remedies, and (2) understand and agree that no grades, reports, transcripts, diploma or any records will be released until the student's accounts with PCA and FACTS are paid in full and/or any delinquencies are removed. Unresolved delinquencies during the school year may prevent grades, reports, transcripts, diploma or records from being released. In addition, unresolved delinquencies may prevent the student from being able to continue academically. Enrollment contracts for the following year will not be offered unless all school-related accounts are made current. Students may not begin the 2021-22 school year unless all prior balance accounts are paid in full by June 1, 2021.
